Veterans Affairs Seeks New Volunteers at Health Center Orientation Course being held Sept. 17 in Grand Island

OMAHA, Neb. — The Department of Veterans Affairs health care facility in Grand Island, Neb., offers a New Volunteer Orientation Course at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 17 in Building 6 at 2201 N. Broadwell Ave.

The course will provide new volunteers at the VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health Care System information about opportunities available that include clerical assistance, shuttle vehicle drivers and other assignments.

Volunteers provide a valuable resource to the VA. If you would like to make a difference in the life of a Veteran, attend the volunteer orientation course.

For more information, call Jody Johnson, VA Voluntary Services specialist, at 308-389-5146.

Information about the VA's volunteer program and opportunities is available at <http://www.nebraska.va.gov/giving>.

The VA Nebraska-Western Iowa Health Care System's mission is to honor America's Veterans by providing exceptional health care that improves their health and well-being.
